Outdoor Skills Instructors

Dominic has been associated with CARD for years. He is an Eagle Scout, an active member of Boy Scout Troop 226, and President of Venture Crew 226 in Troy, IL. He served on the Lewis and Clark Council Cub Scout Summer Camp Staff during the 2008 and 2009 seasons. He camps year-round and has much experience doing so.

Travis has been in love with the outdoors since he can remember. He is interested in many outdoor activities, some of which include fishing, hunting, backpacking, and canoeing. He is an Eagle Scout. Through this program and the completion of two High Adventure camps, Travis learned many valuable leadership and outdoor skills. He has honed his survival skills through college and involvement with Ducks Unlimited and the Sierra Club.

Ambre founded Ginkgo Adventures in 2006. Her formal education is a B.A. English/Art from Maryville University but her passion is the outdoors. In addition to running Ginkgo Adventures she is also an adjunct instructor at Meramec, Wildwood and St. Charles Community College teaching Backpacking/Hiking and Camping/Floating. Ambre is a Wilderness EMT and American Red Cross instructor in CPR, Standard First Aid and Wilderness First Aid. She is certified in Outdoor Emergency Care and is President of the Missouri Whitewater Association. She backpacks, rock climbs, canoes, kayaks (whitewater, sea, and flat water), mountain bikes, and snowboards/skis.

Perry has hiked, camped, and paddled all over the US and Central America. In addition to being an avid hiker, mountain biker, paddler, and all around adventurer, he is the organizer of the St. Louis Adventure Group (SLAG), a group which offers hundreds of outdoor adventure opportunities throughout the year. Perry is a local expert on many outdoor topics. He offers various classes throughout the area on wilderness first aid, paddling and camping tips, and more.
